Question1:

Question2:

Question3: The penalization for growing alfalfa is unfair to the farmers that have cattle, because this crop is the best soil conserving crop. However, it is counted as no crops grown for the base direct payment.

Question4: Any growers growing alfalfa get no compensation from the government for conserving the land. Currently the direct payments encourage farmers to grow the crops that only are for 1 growing season. We should have some compensation for growing alfalfa.

Question5: It is very hard to expand dairies in our area because of the increasing number of people that are moving out into the country to get away from the city yet are unable to put up with what the country has to offer. It would be nice if it were easier to expand without such hassle from land conservation and neighbors.
