Question1: I believe we should go back to the small family farms. If there was not a huge push for the large industrial farms buying up all available land, prices would be more affordable.

Question2: The type of product that will be in high demand is industrial hemp, organic cotton and other earth friendly plants. To even out our balance in trade is to again grow the best hemp the world has to offer as we did in Kentucky, now there's something we can compete with!

Question3: some for all...not based on how large your farm is but how clean and GREEN you grow would be nice!!

Question4: For cleaner air, water and land grow industrial hemp. Nothing better for fiber as the first LEvi's were made of hemp and were well known for their durability. And FOOD! a complete source of protein and all the Omega Fats a body need. We could feed the world protein with hemp seed instead of the starchy carbohydrates that we do...white rice and flour! yuck!

Question5: I would say for the Feds to get out of the way of the small farmers and open up a Free Market without subsidies for the rich!

Organic vegetables are the present and the future.

Question6: Grow HEMP for a better America!!

George Washington did.
