Question1: Create subsidies for new farmers to obtain land for the purpose of growing organic food only.

Question2: Produce good organic food, because that is the wave of the future.

Question3: Find a balance between support and production.

Question4: Assist farmers in making the transition to organic and encourage them to act as good environmental stewards. In addition, establish programs reducing the use of antibiotics in animal agriculture.

Question5: I agree that the Government might focus more on investing in rural America. More support for organic farms is needed.

Question6: Increase the number of organic foods and even eliminate non-organic. Fund research that shows the destructiveness of chemically laced food growing practices
