Question1: It is VITALLY important that US farmers are on a level playing field with foreign producers. All of the regulations that apply to the American farmer should apply equally to foreign agricultural imports. I live in a farming community - I see daily the loss of the American farm economy. I vote with my dollars for American grown products whenever I can. Foreign imports should be labeled as such and they should not be sold in this country if foreign producers are not held to the same rigorous standards as their US counterparts.

Question2: I expect the USDA to know the details of the policy and to insure that these "unintended consequences" stop driving our young farmers out of the industry! The "unintended consequences" of the loss of farm families includes the loss of a huge portion of the moral and ethical underpinnings of this nation.

Question3:

Question4: When our young farmers are successful our conservation and environmental goals will be met.

Question5: Focus on what keeps farm families on the farm. Focus on what makes it financially feasible for the farm to remain a farm and not become another subdivision!

Question6:
