

From: "cleanwater@sprynet.com%inter2" <cleanwater@sprynet.com>
Subject: Farm Bill 2007 Official Comments - 09/14/2005 08:31 AM CDT
Date Sent: 09/14/2005 08:31:04 CDT
Date Received: 09/14/2005 08:32:36 CDT

---

Email: cleanwater@sprynet.com

FirstName: Dale

LastName: Bryson

Address1: 1425 Briergate Drive

Address2:

City: Naperville

State: Illinois

zipcode: 60563

Question1: The paragraph above says it all with respect to the challenge to new farmers. Address those problems in the Bill.

Question2: The bill should move to remove the restrictions on the exports. If a country blocks our foodstuff, we should block their imports.

Question3: The farm bill should reward the individual farmer and not the big conglomerates like it does now. Set maximum caps on payouts to the big conglomerate farms would be a good way to do that.

Question4: One of the best programs to achieve conservation and environmental goals is the CRP program. That program should be continued and expanded in the new farm bill! If we do not continue programs such as this, we will end up with no habitat for wildlife with all of the negative impacts that will result. Please keep the CRP going and expand it!

Question5: I am sickened by the amount of prime farm land that is disappearing into subdivisions. All that is being grown on that land is houses. The Farm bill should address that by requiring the States to develop programs to protect prime farm land from development. The States could do a grading system with the result that prime land cannot be developed for houses. The only land that could be is the less desirable land.

Question6: Again, the paragraph above summarizes opportunities. The farm bill should have specific provisions to encourage (reward) those programs.