Question1: The small farmer should look to the land for a "second source" of income. An example is to promote habitat conservation, which can allow the farmer additional opportunities to receive recreation income from the farm.

Question2:

Question3: Make it a priority to assist the small farmer, instead of the present practice of favoring corporate farm companies.

Question4: expand habitat conservation priorities in the form of farmer incentives, such as expanding the CRP program

Question5: Expand habitat conservation priorities in the form of farmer incentives, such as the CRP program. Good habitat stewardship can translate to farmers being able to use their land for hunting/fishing incomes as well as farming income.

Question6:
