Question1: Let the market settle the issue it is a two edged sword farm land bought at a lower price and sold higher is a good thing. Remove all government regulation and let the market take care of it.

Question2: regulate trade with countries that subsidize their agriculture and do business with only those that do'nt.

Question3: Let the market take care of prop ups. I have farmers who brag about their LDP payments and still benefit from feeding the corn. Stop the assistance period.

Question4: Most farmer/ranchers are good stewards with their properties, use common sense environmental laws to protect the environment and let the local government enforce policy. Broad ranging laws are not practical in all locals.

Question5: By letting the industry invest in itself. Government grants only allow for ineffecient operators stay in business.

Question6: Allow the people involved in the industry search for themselves take risks and find the markets that are most profitable and let the others go if not feasible.
