Question1: This should not be an issue under the farm policy. New landowners need to creatively solve their own land purchase issues without an umbrella policy from the government.

Question2: USDA needs to serve as the conduit between the global economic issues and the producers.

Question3: Small farmers should receive a disproportionate amount of the benefit. Corporate farms should not be eligible for programs.

Question4: Decision makers should be working with other federal and state natural agencies, as well as interested NGO's, in developing a cooperative conservation strategy that uses energies and $$ from all stakeholders.

Question5: These types of issues are handled at the county and/or township level.

Question6: N/A
