Question4: To make this comment as short as possible, Please be aware of the major environmental benefits and services provided by the Urban Forest to their communities in the form of cleaner air and water, energy conservation, health improvements and many more. The funding through USFS for the Urban and Community Forestry program is essential for many of the local programs to exist, become sustainable and prosper. This funding has such power to instigate tremendous leverage of funds from local governments, non-profit groups and the volunteers.

The educational aspects for the citizen volunteers to the whole aspect of urban forestry and that the trees in their back yard are part of an urban forest that provides all these benefits is immeasurable. Please invest in this effort for people to actively help improve their environment rather than depending on government to do it all.

Government can not do it all and the partnerships developed through the Urban & Community Forestry program exponentially expand the effect of the funding from USFS.
