

Backyard Conservation

Carter Backyarder: I love my yard, I want it nice, but what I need is good advice – on how to make it nice for me while helping nature and humanity. I don't know how, I might cause harm...

Farmer: I'll show you what works for me. Just come to my farm. We've done our best to conserve the land from east to west.

Carter: Soil that lasts, insects that pray – I've got a lot to learn you say...trees that protect and water that's clean, now I see what you mean.

Announcer: Call for this book with things you can do...backyard conservation – it will grow on you.
