NATIONAL AGRICULTURE WEEK
March 15–21, 2009
AND
NATIONAL AGRICULTURE DAY
March 20, 2009

By the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States of America

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the Nation recognizes the outstanding contributions of the men and women of agriculture; and

WHEREAS the United States Department of Agriculture seeks to promote an understanding of America's agricultural industry; and

WHEREAS American agriculture helps feed the world, fuels our Nation's economy, and is the largest positive contributor to our Nation's net trade balance; and

WHEREAS the United States exports about one-fifth of its agricultural production, with agricultural exports reaching $115.5 billion in 2008; and

WHEREAS agricultural exports injected nearly $216 billion into the national economy in 2007, supporting jobs for 808,000 Americans, and each farming export dollar generates another $1.40 in support activities; and

WHEREAS agriculture provides jobs throughout the farm and food industry, including employment for farmers, farm workers, scientists, processors, shippers, and retailers; and

WHEREAS the stewardship of America's farmers and ranchers ensures a sustainable resource base for future generations; and

WHEREAS American farmers and ranchers uphold the rural character of the Nation as they provide the most abundant and most affordable food and fiber supply in the world; and

WHEREAS American agriculture builds on centuries of progress by constantly seeking advances in science, research, technology, production, and marketing to meet the demands of changing consumer needs and complex world markets; and

WHEREAS a broad approach to agricultural education is vital to ensure that American agriculture continues to flourish, and the agricultural community engages tens of thousands of volunteers and organizations to help educate students about the importance of agriculture in modern-day America through agricultural literacy efforts;

NOW, THEREFORE, in recognition of the preeminent role that agriculture plays in the daily lives of every American, in acknowledgment of the future progress and prosperity of the Nation's economy, and in appreciation of farmers and ranchers across the Nation, I, Thomas J. Vilsack, Secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture, do hereby proclaim the week of March 15–21, 2009, as National Agriculture Week and recognize March 20, 2009, as National Agriculture Day.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this 5th day of March 2009, the two-hundred thirty-third year of the Independence of the United States of America.
