

Emily Oakley

Emily Oakley owns and operates Three Springs Farm, a diversified, certified-organic vegetable and fruit farm in eastern Oklahoma with her partner. They cultivate over fifty different crops and more than 150 individual varieties on six acres of land, selling their produce through a farmers' market and Community Supported Agriculture program. The farm's goal is to maintain a family-sized operation that demonstrates the economic viability of small-scale farming. Emily has extensive experience serving on the Board of Directors of several agricultural organizations and participates in international farmer-to-farmer exchanges. She is currently serving as Interim Director of the National Young Farmers Coalition, a membership-based organization dedicated to the success of the next generation of sustainable farmers in the United States.
