

United States: Spring wheat (excluding durum)

Yellow numbers indicate percent of national total each state contributes to national production annually. States not numbered contribute less than 1% to the national total.

Legend

- Major growing areas
- Minor growing areas

- Major growing areas combined account for 75% of total national production annually
- Major and minor growing areas combined account for 99% of total national production annually
- Major and minor growing areas and state production percentages based upon averaged NASS county-level and state production data from 1996-2000

Hard red spring wheat crop calendar for most of the United States

