

Pennsylvania

The potential to grow and make innovative products in rural America is limitless. Since 2009, the Obama Administration has made targeted investments to help rural businesses grow. Through the U.S. Department of Agriculture’s projects in affordable housing, energy efficiency, roads and bridges, and internet access, coupled with loans and grants for rural businesses, the Administration has helped to attract and retain a talented rural labor force, improve connectivity and access to information, move products to market, and make rural communities competitive—ultimately supporting strong local economies and expanded opportunity for rural Pennsylvanians.

SPOTLIGHT ON LOCAL

Common Market’s food hub business model connects local farmers in the rural Mid-Atlantic region with wholesale customers in urban areas. With funding from USDA’s Local Food Promotion Program, Common Market was able to add a truck and purchase coolers that will streamline their delivery system. In addition to improving the shelf-life of the products, the coolers will serve as a centralized collection point for farmers’ products and reduce the distance Common Market’s trucks have to travel to pick up and deliver products. Local food sales were valued at $11.7 billion in 2014. In Pennsylvania, USDA has invested in 755 local food projects, helping to develop food hubs, small-scale processing, farmers markets and other market opportunities in local food.
