

United States
Department of Agriculture

You are invited to join USDA officials for a Farm Bill Listening Session on the Agricultural Act of 2014 on Tuesday, May 13, 3:00 to 4:30 pm eastern time. We, at USDA, want to keep you engaged and informed about the implementation process and the impact that it will have on your communities.

Teleconference Dial-in Number: (800) 230-1092

Event: Tribal Stakeholder Farm Bill Listening Session

Date: Tuesday, May 13, 2014

Time: 3:00 to 4:30 p.m. eastern time

Where: Jamie L. Whitten Building, Room 107-A or by dial-in U.S. Department of Agriculture
1400 Independence Ave SW
Washington, DC 20250

The following USDA agencies and offices will be participating in the listening session:

- Farm Service Agency
- Food and Nutrition Service
- Forest Service
- Local and Regional Food Systems
- Marketing and Regulatory Programs
- Natural Resources Conservation Service
- Office of Advocacy and Outreach
- Research, Education and Economics
- Risk Management Agency
- Rural Development

Please RSVP to josiah.griffin@osec.usda.gov by 12:00 p.m. eastern time on Monday, May 12. Let us know if you will be attending in person or if you would like to request dial-in information. Also, in your RSVP message, please identify Farm Bill provisions and programs that are of interest to your organization. Dial-in information will be provided by May 12.

If you plan to attend in person, please enter the Whitten Building from the Jefferson Drive side which faces The National Mall. When you arrive at security, please present a government-issued identification. Street parking is very limited. The closest metro is Smithsonian Metro Station.

If you have any questions, please e-mail josiah.griffin@osec.usda.gov, call USDA's Office of Tribal Relations at 202-205-2249, or call USDA's Office of External & Intergovernmental Affairs at 202-720-6643.