

FUTURE LEADERS IN AGRICULTURE PROGRAM

Would you like to attend USDA's 2019 Agricultural Outlook Forum in Washington, DC?

USDA's Agricultural Outlook Forum provides producers, policymakers, business, government, and industry leaders with a unique opportunity to meet, exchange ideas, and discuss timely issues at the forefront of America's agriculture. In an effort to increase the present and future diversity participation at the Forum, USDA created a program providing sponsorship opportunities for junior and senior baccalaureate and graduate students to attend this annual event.

The 2019 Agricultural Outlook Forum will be held Feb. 21-22 in Arlington, Virginia, at the Crystal Gateway Marriott Hotel. Students will travel to Washington, DC Monday, February 18. Tuesday, February 19, USDA will host a briefing and discussion of career opportunities. Wednesday, February 20, students will tour the Nation's Capital. Thursday and Friday, February 21-22, students attend the Forum. The USDA Outlook Forum Future Leaders in Agriculture Program is designed to expose students to contemporary agribusiness, future trends, scientific research, and agricultural policy in today's real world environment.

TARGET: The program targets 30 agriculture, agricultural business, agricultural economics, communications, nutrition and food science or pre-veterinary junior or senior and graduate students who demonstrate leadership at their university and/or in their community. Students (20 undergraduate and 10 graduate) will be selected from Land-Grant Colleges and Universities, Hispanic-Serving Institutions, and Non-Land-Grant Colleges of Agriculture.

UNDERGRADUATE SELECTION CRITERIA: Students submit an application and one-page essay entitled "Agriculture as a Career" to their respective institution representative (i.e., academic dean or department chair). Each institution performs a "pre-selection" process by choosing the final best two essays among the applicants.

GRADUATE SELECTION CRITERIA: Students submit an application and essay (two-page maximum) entitled "The Greatest Challenge Facing Agriculture Over the Next 5 Years" to their respective institution representative (i.e., academic dean or department chair). Each institution performs a "pre-selection" process by choosing the final best two essays among the applicants.

ESSAY SUBMISSIONS: The institution's Academic Chair/Dean will submit applications and essays (for both graduate and undergraduate students) to Lisa Purnell (lisa.purnell@osec.usda.gov) along with individual letters of recommendation, which discuss the student's leadership ability by Friday, November 30, 2018. (Two undergraduate and one graduate position are reserved for University of Maryland Eastern Shore students.) Essays must include student's name, major, and year in school. Final selections will be made by Lisa Purnell, 1890 Program Liaison, USDA Office of Partnerships and Public Engagement. Applicants must be U.S. citizens enrolled full-time in an academic institution as described in the Target section at the time of application and the Forum.

TRAVEL ITINERARY: Registration, transportation and lodging are provided. Students are asked to bring resources to pay for their baggage fees (if applicable) and meals Monday and Tuesday, February 18-19, and lunch on Wednesday. Forum meals, along with Tuesday and Wednesday breakfast and dinner are provided. Students will arrive in Washington, D.C. Monday, February 18, 2019 and return home Friday, February 22, 2019. The winners will be announced in January via the Forum website, press release and blog.
