

Joanna Carraway

Joanna Carraway is the 2013 Tomorrow's Top Producer Horizon Award recipient and is a co-owner of Carraway Family Farms where she handles day-to-day operations and financial duties.

After becoming a partner in 2006, she transitioned the farm to digital record-keeping and has seen an annual growth in net equity despite only two non-drought years. Over the past five years she has helped the farm double its gross revenues, mainly through a large tobacco expansion.

Carraway is goal-oriented and believes in looking at the big picture and using short and long-term analysis to make the most of every dollar invested.

A 2005 graduate of Murray State University with a bachelor's degree in Agronomy, Carraway resides in Calloway County, KY with her husband, Craig, and their two children, Preston and Hannah.
