

FRED GALE

Fred Gale has been a research economist with the Market and Trade Economics Division of the Economic Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture since 1988. His work focuses on China's international trade, agricultural policy, and new developments in China's food sector. Dr. Gale has also researched changes in U.S. farm structure and rural development issues at ERS, and he was an economics lecturer at Shandong University in China during 1990-91. He holds a PhD in economics from North Carolina State University and a BS in economics from Virginia Tech.