

Annemarie Kuhns

Annemarie Kuhns is an Agricultural Economist with the USDA's Economic Research Service (ERS). Working in the Food Economics Division, Food Markets Branch she forecasts retail food prices as well as working on other topics relating to food prices and markets. Annemarie joined the ERS in June of 2013 after working for 6 years as an Economist with the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Atlanta Office. Annemarie completed her M.A. in economics from Georgia State University in 2012.