

Alejandro Munoz
DuPont Pioneer Vice President
Global Commercial Business

Alejandro Munoz is DuPont Pioneer vice president, Global Commercial Business, which includes responsibility for all Pioneer commercial markets worldwide. He moved into this role in 2014 and is a member of the DuPont Pioneer Leadership Team.

Since joining Pioneer in 1981, Alejandro has worked in a variety of geographies, including North America, Europe, Argentina, Mexico, Central America and the Caribbean. His previous leadership roles have included serving as vice president, Americas and Global Production, vice president and regional director for North America, and vice president, Europe Operations. He began his career as quality control manager in Latin America.

Alejandro holds a Bachelor of Science degree in agronomy from the University of Costa Rica. He completed specialization courses in finance and accounting at the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton Graduate School of Business and in marketing at the University of Stanford's Graduate School of Business.